POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Washington gossip columnists, who have daily communion with political bigwigs in the national capital, have been conjecturing quite avidly in recent weeks over whether President Roosevelt will seek a fourth term — and gradually, in guarded language, the word is spreading throughout the country that the President will not run again!

That, to be sure, is contrary to the belief of most Republican leaders, who consider it a ruse designed to lull them into inaction, but some of the veteran observers in Washington believe that Mr. Roosevelt, through intimates, like Harry Hopkins, has deliberately inspired the stories to give other Democratic aspirants a chance to see whether they can be developed into presidential timber.

President Roosevelt has so far overshadowed others in his party during the past twelve years that party chieftains have despaired of building up any other Democrat into White House stature as long as the public believes the President will run again. And it is quite probable the recent "inside" yarns that Roosevelt plans to retire are intended to give Vice President Wallace, Economic Stabilization Director James Byrnes, Manpower Chief Paul McNutt, Supreme Court Justice William Douglas, and other Democratic stalwarts a chance to show what they can do.

None of the other Democratic possibilities, thus far, however, has clicked with the rank and file American voter. Wallace is undoubtedly best known, but even in his own party he is considered somewhat starry-eyed and unrealistic. What Republicans think of him was best summed up by brilliant, sharp-tongued Clare Boothe Luce who, in her maiden speech in Congress, described Mr. Wallace's global thinking as "globaloney." Mr. McNutt as manpower chief, with the duty of shuffling people around and generally disturbing their daily lives, isn't expected to endear himself to the public. And the other two gentlemen, Byrnes and Douglas, are still unknown to the great mass of voters.

The man to watch very carefully if Mr. Roosevelt should echo Cal Coolidge and say "I do not choose to run" is big, lumbering Wendell Willkie, the 1940 GOP nominee, who has a stronger Democratic following than any other Republican candidate, due to his ardent championship of the President's war policies. Willkie's toughest fight, Washington observers believe, would be to land his own party nomination. If he got that he would be a formidable contender against any Democrat, Roosevelt included. But to get in that spot, Mr. Willkie badly needs to repair his Republican fences and to draw a definite line of demarcation between himself and Mr. Roosevelt on the fundamental issue of private enterprise versus government bureaucracy.

Lt. Stallman Is Honored Over Radio

The report over the radio recently on a broadcast from England that Lieut. Stallman had brought his bomber to England safely after it had downed four Nazis in a raid over Europe, created much speculation as to whether it might be Lieut. George E. Stallman, son of Mrs. George E. Stallman of San Jose and the late Dr. G. E. Stallman.

A letter has established the fact that it was he, although his sister, Miss Josephine Stallman said the first news came from a member of the crew who was interviewed on a program broadcast from England.

Lieut. Stallman's reference to the affair was very brief. Across the back of an envelope he had written, "Yes, the broadcast was about me."

For several years the Stallman family lived in Campbell when Dr. Stallman practiced denistry here.

Cadet Tom Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, is training for bomber radio operator at Scott Field, Ill. Before his enlistment in October Smith had attended San Jose State for two years and had one year at night school in radio operating. Mrs. Tom Smith, Sr., has just returned from a visit with her son. Cadet Smith is a first class sergeant of barracks.

"THAT'S THE 'UNION' TO STRIKE FOR NOW!"

Reports that Miss Winnifred Grizzle who was operated upon last week at O'Connor sanitarium is staging a very successful recovery, is extremely gratifying to her host of Campbell friends.

Mrs. B. B. Botts was taken to O'Connor sanitarium Sunday where she underwent a major operation Monday. At our last report her condition was satisfactory.

Rev. J.H. Bennett attended the lectures at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley Tuesday and Wednesday but was unable to remain for the closing day owing to important work under way in Campbell.

Toney Shelton, formerly of Campbell, received his commission as lieutenant and his silver wings, Feb. 6, at Williams Field, Chandler, Ariz, where he graduated from the air force advanced flying school.

"Bambi" Coming To Local Theater

The most beautiful as well as the most mature of Walt Disney's feature productions, "Bambi" is coming to the Campbell theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 21, 22 and 23.

"Bambi" uses the background of the Maine woods, at all the varying seasons of the year, to tell its appealing story of birth, life, love, parenthood, tragedy and triumph. Famous author Felix Salten wrote this story, using animals of the forests as characters, and turned out a best selling Book-of-the-Month novel. "Bambi" is in technicolor.

The members meet at their homes and Mrs. Rigdon has been speaking to them on personality, and a war time wardrobe. Advisers are Miss Merrit, Mrs. H. Jensen, and Mrs. M. Farnham.

"America at War" Discussed by Dr. William Poytress

Dr. William A. Poytress gave one of his always interesting and thought stirring talks before the Kiwanis club Tuesday, his subject on this occasion being "America at War." Chairman was Ira R. Abbott.

Dr. Poytress in "random thinking about the war," discussed his topic from three phases, the military, economic and political.

This is in reality, part two of World War I, he said. Hitler says it is a war of two philosophies in which his would survive.

"Total war means anihilation with no distinction between soldiers and civilians. Both Hitler and Japan thought if they could conquer quickly they would win, but in the last analysis resources will win the war.

"Our development of our resources is increasing tremendously, outstripping all the other nations. The military is following closely but distances are complicating our efforts.

"Japan's weak spots are shipping and steel. Our method of combating is by air and submarine.

"War in the Solomons is only protecting our supply line to Australia. In Europe

Campbell Red Cross Unit Very Active

Campbell Red Cross branch has been doing yoeman service in completing supplies asked for by headquarters.

In four months, the time that has elapsed since Mrs. Ray Wood, chairman of the local work unit, sent out her request for donations of materials, the women have completed 29 lap robes and 23 wheel chair robes from used woollen materials; 35 tray cloths from old tablecloths; 591 fracture pillows (these are filled with snipped materials); and 654 pillow slips for the fracture pillows.

All this is in addition to the quantities of things made from materials supplied by the Red Cross, and the knitted garments.

Now, more materials are needed, Mrs. Wood says, woolen garments, the best parts of which are used for the squares for lap robes and the rest for snips for the pillows, odds and ends of yarn; white material—old sheets, worn table or lunch cloths, or other white material.

Let's keep these devoted workers supplied!

Campbell well baby conference which was to be held today has been changed to Feb. 25 because of other important work of Dr. W. I. Merrill who is in charge. VICTORY AT GUADALCANAL

There is a natural tendency on the part of our govment and military leaders, in the wake of the victory at Guadalcanal, to warn against over-confidence and to emphasize that this is just a dent in the Jap armor, rather than a turning point in the war. It is well that we should exercise restraint in evaluating our initial victories and that we should not repeat the mistake of under-estimating our foe, as we did before the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor.

In actual fact, we have won only a pin-point on the broad map of the Pacific—a dot of land with a flying field which we badly needed to protect our shipping lanes to Australia, and which will also serve as a valuable base in future attacks against the enemy. We paid a high price, in men and ships, for that little strip of land, but the significance of the victory is that it cost us far less to win it than it cost the Japs to lose it.

We have taken a fierce toll of the Japs in our first two victories of the Pacific, at Guadalcanal Island and in New Guinea—a toll of 90,000 Japanese dead, 200 Nipponese ships sunk or damaged, and 2,000 planes destroyed. In the southern Solomons alone, our military observers estimate that Japan lost 75,000 men, 150 ships and 1,000 planes, while the remainder of the losses were sustained in the New Guinea campaign, where MacArthur's troops wiped out the invasion force to the last man.

Our success in whittling-down the Jap Navy and merchant marine may have greater bearing on the outcome of the war than our possession of the narrow strips of land which were the focal points of the fighting. Similarly, the blow to Japanese military morale is a factor of major importance; the enemy knows now the mettle of American troops—and their costly retreat from Guadalcanal proves that far from being obsessed with a suicidal passion to die for the Emperor, they know how to run when they are licked. Guadalcanal may not be a turning point in the war, but the Japs at least have had a foretaste of what is to come. And the evidence indicates that they don't like it.

"DO YOU LOVE LIBERTY?"

The first University of California mid-term graduating class, 2200 strong, went out from the Berkeley campus into a war-ridden world, last week. In bidding them Godspeed, President Robert Gordon Sproul asked of them: "Do you love liberty, love it so much that you wish to accord it to all others as well as to insure it for yourselves? Does the love of liberty . . transcend the desire for your own success?"

President Sproul might well have asked that question of all of us, as well as of the youngsters who must so soon "shoulder arms." The seniors of every previous class must answer, for war demands that we shall send out, if need be, our most cherished possessions—our sons and daughters—must put aside our life-long aims to take our places in the war effort.

"Next term and next year as always," declared President Sproul, "we shall continue to teach the ancient tradition of the academic world, as well as its modern applications," a statement that answered a question in many minds. We should not enjoy finding, at the close of war, that we had followed Axis ideologies, thrusting out of our American plan everything that has no bearing on the arts of war. Now, these may be essential, but then, we shall need and want the arts of democracy's peaceful pursuits.

BONES TO PICK

Housewives, attention! Uncle Sam wants to pick a bone with you! He needs the bones that emerge from the week's roast or steak when you've nibbled down that far. There's a shortage of bone meal, calcium, and phosphorus — acutely needed for poultry and livestock feed all over the country. Your butcher will receive them from you.

Be a Boy Scout while you're about it, and make a fire by rubbing two sticks together—or if not quite that, then don't use more than one match! There's need for many more matches in the armed forces as well as for export, and we normally use up more than 500 billion matches yearly, as it is. One match looks small, but 70 to 80 million board feet of lumber annually go into providing those insignificant little wood splints! That's considerable forest.

SCHWAB HOME IS SCENE OF PARTY

Mrs. Charles J. Trammell of Monterey was the honored guest at a pink and blue shower given at the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Schwab the afternoon of Feb. 7 on San Tomas road by her aunt, Mrs. James F. Ryan also of the same address.

Mrs. Trammell received many dainty gifts from the guests who were college friends, sorority sisters, relatives and friends of the honoree.

A number of suitable games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon. Bright and colorful vases resembling the spring flowers were given as prizes. Mrs. Leland E. Minges a sister-in-law of Mrs. Ryan who has recently moved to Willow Glen from Martinez was presented with a special gift.

A program of several numbers closed the afternoon's activities after which Mrs. Ryan served delicious refreshments.

The guest list included Mrs. H. A. Cassingham, Mrs. Wilbur K. Wirtz, Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, Mrs. Borg Snyder, Mrs. James Drake, Mrs. F. Mello, Mrs. Eldon Pressfield, Mrs. Byron Warburton, Mrs. Leland E. Minges, Miss Florence Rhoten, Miss Betty Scruggs, Miss Dorothy Alverson and Miss Karine Snyder of San Jose.

Mrs. H. Luke Warburton of Santa Clara; Mrs. George E. Minges of Stockton, Mrs. Grace Cole of San Francisco, Mrs. Hulme Warburton of Richmond, Mrs. R. Shepherd of Saratoga.

Mrs. Raymond De Selle, Mrs. David Rutherford, Mrs. Meta Rudy, Mrs. James Christensen and Mrs. Joseph Rossotto of Campbell.

This being also the date of the 85th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Trammell's great grandparents many pieces of old dishes and furniture were used. Mrs. Trammell's grand parents, who will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary soon, were introduced and during the program period Mrs. Schwab delighted the guests by singing the lullaby hymn she used to sing to Mrs. Trammell when a child.

Fire Destroys Small Home On Sunnyside

The Campbell Volunteer Fire department responded to a call Wednesday morning shortly after 11 o'clock to the cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nichols on the north side of Sunnyside avenue.

Nichols, who works at night was awakened from sleep to a smoke filled house. His small son had lighted papers and then put them in a closet to hide them.

The father was able to get the child and himself out of the house but before he could call the fire department the small home was almost destroyed.

Thedepartment's hose had to be carried across lots 1000 feet from Third and Alice to even start trying to extinguish the blaze. Sunnyside is not in the district although residents have been trying to join. Chief Scott of the fire department advises them to hurry and join because the faster they get in the more protection they will have.

Substitute for Steamed Bonemeal

Thoroughly steamed bonemeal is not always available for use in making mineral mixtures for hogs, says Ellis V. Vestal, animal husbandry extension specialist of North Carolina State college. When it is not available, he says, a mixture of 10 pounds of ground limestone and two pounds of salt may be used. If it is available, use 10 pounds of ground limestone, 10 pounds of steamed bonemeal, and five pounds of salt. Minerals should be placed where the hogs can have free access to it, but should be kept dry.

Controlling Rust on Roof

At the first sign of rust, says D. S. Weaver, extension agricultural engineer of North Carolina State college, or when the roof shows dark discoloration, the galvanized roofing should be painted with metallic zinc paint. Before applying the paint, the roof should be put in good physical shape and all gutters and low places should be cleaned of fallen leaves and dirt. If the roof has been painted with any kind of paint previously, all loose and scaly parts must be removed with a wire brush, rinsing the roof with water, and allowing it to dry.

Telescoping Wagon Tongue

Where it is necessary to attach either team or tractor to wagons, a telescoping wagon tongue is especially useful. Specifications for construction may be obtained from the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, Washington, D. C.

Rapid Timber Seasoning

Urea or carbamide is finding increasing use as a chemical seasoning agent for lumber. Its use has greatly facilitated the rapid seasoning of timbers and heavy lumber items urgently needed in wartime.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Let the People Know" by Norman Angell.

Here is a book that answers the questions that confuse us and are needed for victory in the war today and in the peace tomorrow.

The author says "The purpose of this book is to help the average busy citizen, professing no expert knowledge of foreign affairs, to play the most effective part possible in the shaping of policy for the winning of the war, and afterward, in the right use of victory, so that there will not be a Third World War twenty years hence.

We, the "average busy citizens", are the majority. The late Frank Simonds, reviewing a series of books about the armament plotters, wrote, "It is what the people en masse accept as their rights, as the rights of their countries, sovereign and imprescriptible, and call upon their leaders to maintain uncompromisingly that make wars." Thus it is also what the people en masse accept as their rights, as the rights of their countries that make peace and security for all.

It is the author's aim, in writing this book, to help the citizens of our country to better grasp and comprehend their importance and power at this critical time. Herein Angell tells us how we can wield our forceful weapon in the cause of democracy. It has been said that knowledge is power. Then if that is true, there is a great deal of power to be gained from the knowledge in "Let the People Know."

The author was born in England in 1874, and was educated in Europe. He made his first acquaintance with America when he ran away from school in Switzerland and spent five years as a ranch hand in the far West. Since then he has been an international citizen, dividing his time between England and America. It was in 1933 when he won the Nobel Prize "for the most notable contribution to the problem of peace"— one of the last times the Peace Prize was awarded. He has written many books, of which the best known, "The Great Illusion," was translated into eleven languages and has influenced men's thinking for years.

"Let the People Know" is destined to influence millions of Americans, especially those Americans who are sincerely in love with their country.

Marcus Cariello, 59, was fined $100 Monday in Justice Charles A. Thompson's court in Santa Clara on a charge of drunken driving. He was arrested Sunday night on Stevens Creek road by highway patrolman Mel Kent and pleaded guilty to the charge.

Coal Plastic Material Source

Coal is an important source of material for the plastics industry. The prospects for a tremendous increase in the volume of plastics production will render the future for coal derivatives extremely bright, if every effort is made to maintain research, reduce basic cost of manufacture, increase yields, and produce a varied and flexible number of intermediates.

Gathered at the Campbell community hall on Monday afternoon for their regular meeting were members of the Country Woman's club

Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, chairman of the day's program, introduced Mrs. Leroy Lassard who spoke on "Senoras and Senoritas."

Mrs. Lassard was reared near Buenos Aires and told of the life of women in the Argentine. She described housekeeping in the country and smaller towns and told of the customs of courtship and marriage. "The better class women are very devoted mothers and also do a great deal of charity work."

Mrs. Leroy V. Brandt, colorature soprano of the San Jose municipal chorus sang the following numbers:

"Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" and "Loves Philosophy" both by Roger Quilter and "The Time for Making Songs Has Come" by James Rogers. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Virginia Rutherford.

Two Mexican folk songs "Cielito Lindo" and "La Golondrina" were sung in Spanish by Miss Patricia Matranga of the Campbell Grammar school faculty.

During the business session Mrs. D. H. Cramer and Mrs. Ricardo Fuerte were unanimously voted into the club.

Tentative plans were initiated for a card party to be given in the near future in order to raise money for the club's contributions to the U. S. O. snack bar.

Robeson Recital Friday, March 5

Paul Robeson, "first among the vocalists of his race, and comparable to the greatest singers of any race," (Chicago Herald-American), sings in the civic auditorium, San Jose, on Friday evening, March 5, in an extra-series event for the San Jose Concert series.

Robeson has an M. A. from Rutgers college, a law degree form Columbia and an honorary doctorate from Hamilton college. At Rutgers he won his "R" in baseball, football, track and basketball. He was All-American End for two seasons, and was offered flattering contracts by commercial managers.

Following Paul Robeson, the San Jose Concert series presents the great French pianist, Casadesus, on Friday evening, March 12. It was of Casadesus that the New York critic, Virgil Thompson, said, "I would walk a mile to hear him play practically anything at anytime."

CORONER'S JURY CONSIDERS AUTO-BICYCLE ACCIDENT

The coroner's jury that yesterday considered the case of the auto-bicycle collision on Race street in San Jose, Feb. 12, in which injuries sustained by Joe Volpi resulted in his death, was unable to fix the blame.

Seven of the jurors signed an "open verdict," while the eighth juror, J. S. Williams, added that in his opinion the collision was an accident.

Driver of the car was Frank F. Richardson of Rincon avenue, who refused to testify on advice of his counsel, Frank V. Campbell. There were no eye witnesses to the collision.

The district attorney's office said it was uncertain if charges would be brought against Richardson.

Q. Can Stamps of various denominations be placed in one album?
A. More than one denomination in an album greatly increases the work and cost of redemption. Please, therefore, don't mix denominations.

Q. May a minor designate a co-owner or beneficiary?
A. Yes, if the purchase is made by the minor from his own wages or earnings.

Q. Do I lose my investment if my War Savings Bond is lost, stolen, or destroyed?

By Gib Crockett.

A. No; upon satisfactory proof of loss or destruction, the Treasury Department will issue a duplicate, usually without requiring a bond of indemnity.

Q. May I register the name of a beneficiary on a Bond without his knowledge?
A. Yes. Records of War Savings Bonds are confidential. It is not necessary for the Treasury to contact the beneficiary during the owner's lifetime. Only individuals may be named as beneficiaries. No associations, churches, or clubs may be so named.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

The Growth of an Error

By IRVIN S. COBB

SINCE Charles M. Schwab became a semi-professional after-dinner speaker, he has been retailing across banquet tables an incident which he claims figured in a personal experience. Still, it is well to view with suspicion the alleged reminiscences of any after-dinner speaker. It may be that the thing didn't happen to him at all. Perhaps he only heard it somewhere.

Be that as it may, Mr. Schwab states that during one of his trips to Europe he met a gentleman whose breast was almost entirely covered with decorations bestowed by various continental governments.

"Tell me, sir," said Mr. Schwab, "the story of the heroism or the achievements, as the case may be, for which you were awarded this extraordinary number of honors?"

"I shall be perfectly frank with you," stated the other man. "This large medal here—the one containing the pigeon-blood ruby in the fringe of amethysts—was the first to be bestowed upon me. I received all the others as a result of having received that one."

"And for what were you given the first one?" inquired Schwab.

"Oh," said the European, "that one was given to me by mistake."

P.-T. A. Founders' Day Observed

On Feb. 10 Founders' Day of the P.-T. A. was celebrated by the two Campbell units. After their respective business meetings presided over by the presidents, Mrs. Carl Field, high school, and Mrs. C. P. Klassen, grammar school, a combined program was presented in the grammar school auditorium.

The grammar school orchestra, under the direction of Richard Gordon, played several selections; and the dramatic class of the high school, under Kenneth McDonell, gave a clever skit in guise of a radio play "Pioneers Forever" showing the pioneer work done by Mrs. Hearst and Mrs. Birney.

During the social hour, the past presidents of both units were introduced by the principals of the schools. Mrs. Mark Purmort had charge of the effective candle lighting ceremony and cutting of the birthday cake.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN on the Farm

Heroines! Our farm women of California won't say so. But they are!
Up at black dawn. Putting on the uniform of WORK . . . khaki or blue denim—copper riveted.
Hair in a bright bandana. Complexion by Nature—the great cosmetician.

Mothers and daughters working the acres on the home place. Brothers and cousins and neighbor boys off to war.
Soil to be turned, seeds to be sown and crops to be harvested.
And there are always the house to tend and meals to prepare.

That's the California farm today. Sun-up till the last chore is done. The job is BIG.
Food for Freedom. Fighting food for fighting men. Food for Health for a Nation at War.
The pay is BIG. It is pay in Satisfaction of a job well done.
It is pay in Pride that swells the heart — big as all Humanity.
It is pay in filling the bellies of Liberty Ships.
It is pay when a tired, stubble faced boy grins and says, "Hot diggity—California peaches!"

Such are our smart, modern women on the farms of California. They watch sun-up brighten the skies and see there the promise of America at Peace. They see ahead the new developments which will add to the comforts and conveniences and labor-saving devices now in their homes and on their farms. And waiting for Peace are television, marvels in new lighting, wonders in glass and plastics. California will have a great share of these things, you may be sure.
